Landon White Law Firm, PLLC Announces Expanded Practice Areas

Raleigh, NC – Landon White Law Firm, PLLC has offered additional legal services to our clients over the years upon request, including estate planning, family law, real property law, professional license counsel, and more. These practice areas have been building since Landon White Law Firm, PLLC opened its doors as a criminal defense firm. We have recently rolled these services out to everyone, and we have added the practice areas to our website.

“Broadening our practice areas to include estate planning, family law, real property law, and other areas allows the firm to offer additional value to our clients. It allows us to continue to strengthen our relationships with our clients. I am excited to open these services up to everyone,” said Landon White, attorney and founder of Landon White Law Firm, PLLC.

Before founding his firm, attorney Landon White ran the criminal defense practice for a Raleigh-based law firm, worked in a real estate and estate planning Raleigh-based law firm, and was instrumental in the publication of the sixth edition of Webster’s Real Property Law in North Carolina, a legal treatise routinely cited in North Carolina judicial opinions on real property issues.
